PRICES TOO HIGH FOR SHOP GROUND

Western Maryland Wanted Greenwood Property and It is Optioned.

REAL PURPOSE IS VEILED

Company Does Not Indicate What Land Was Desired For But It Is Supposed Shops Would Have Been Located On It-Refusal Anticipated.

Yesterday options were closed for | cr. a large area of undeveloped property between the Westrn Maryland and Pennsylvania railroads on the West Side, and these will be submitted to the railroad company for consideration. It was stated today that the options would probably be rejected be-cause of the excessive prices that are asked by the owners.

Some weeks ago the railorad Indi-cated that it desired the property in Greenwood. None of it has been im-proved and it is in that part of the Greenwood plan originally intended for manufactoring establishments. When word was received here steps were immediately taken to secure options on the desired land. Several options on the desired land. Several real estate agents were enlisted and quietly secured options at various prices. Yesterday the last were closed.

The railroad company is said to have asked that the property be se cured at a figure not exceeding $25,000. When the option prices were footed up the total was in the neighborhood of $43,000. The largest inone at a figure not exceeding $25, one to keep the machinery only. It is abouter footed no the total was in the neighborhood of $48,000. The largest individual option taken was one for $20,000 on the Rohm slaughter house and grounds. The company desired only four vacant lots that are owned by M. J. Rohm, but he declined to dispose of them. He insisted upon patting in his slaughter house and dwelling. A man interested in the transaction stated today that he believed $25,000 a fair figure for all the property desired.

The railroad company efficials have given no indication as to what distinct the ground is wanted for terminal the ground is wanted for terminal the ground is wanted for terminal read in the property desired. It is said, however, that the ground is wanted for terminal read into the passenger service that will center here as a division headquarters.

mines in Western Pennsylvania were represented by their first aid ream and the contests were witnessed by several hundred coal operators of this vicinity. Minors, eager to learn the art of first aid, crowded around the small field where the meet was held. Prizes had been offered by the coal association to the team carrying of first honors in each event, there being five on the program.

Thirteen teams from Western Pennsylvania contested. Each tental was composed of five men, including a captain. The first event on the card was the dressing of a man's hand, which had been "crushed," the fingers bursted and the palm lacerated. The wound was dressed with a first aid packet containing two bandages. The prize, a large first aid box, was awarded to the Pittsburg Coal Company's team, under Superintendent L. C. Sarver. The second and third events were also won by this team.

The second event was the rescue were shown in this event and the means of artificial respiration to a man flive wire. Three methods of rescue were shown in this event and the means of artificial respiration to a man aling on a live wire.

The third event was the demonstration from the head to the waist line and also on the bands and arms by the explosion of a keg of powder. Three men took part in this demonstration. Team o. 6, from the Berwind White Coal Mining Company, under William Brownie, took the prize in this contest.

if the Company Declines to Live Up to Ordinance by Which It Occupies Streets of Connellsville-Finance Committee Digs for Payroll.

With Solicitor R. S. Matthews declaring that in his opinion the ordinance by which the Fayette County Gas Company occupies the streets and theroughtares of Connellsville pro-vides for free gas for all shoot and public buildings, the School Board on Thursday decided to have gas fixtures installed in furnaces now using coal The gas company will be asked to live up to the terms of its franchise ordinance, which provides that gas shall be furnished free to all borough and school buildings, providing they are situated on streets along which the lines of the company have been run and that connections to the buildings be made at the expense of the borough or School Board. The board is willing Flying Bits of Metal Played to pay for the connections.

The contract for installing the gas fixtures was awarded F. T. Evans.
He was by far the lowest bidder of the three submitting estimates. His bil for installing the fixtures in the Third Ward, South Side and Greenwood buildings was $200.89. Cryber
C Son asked $4.19 $0 and the Sight & Son asked $419.80 and the Stahl Plumbing Company $503.50.

Owing to the fact that legal proceedings might drag through the winter before the gas is finally turned on, the fixtures will be installed in such a manner that coal can be used if gas

KEPT YOUTHFUL PROMISE.

Uniontown Man and Maid Seek Pitts burg Minister to Wed.

James W. Henshaw of Uniontown redeemed a promise made as a boy when he went to Pittsburg Thursday and was married. Years ago, when "the preacher" dined at his father's house, Henshaw jokingly said when he was married he would have the clergyman perform the ceramony.

And so when he proposed and was accepted by Miss Margaret T. High-botham of Brownsville-the first thing he did was to look up the clergyman new a gray-haired man, Mr. Henshaw and Miss Higinbotham arrived in Pittsburg yesterday morning. They found the elergyman without difficulty who accompanied them to the mar-riage license office. Later, at their request, after the knot was tied, he saw to it that a brief notice of the marriage was placed in the papers.

Both Mr. Henshaw and Miss High-Both Mr. Hensaaw and Miss High-botham are of prominent and wealthy families. The young people will live on a farm just purchased in the Shenandoah Valley, a place just six miles from where their ancestors lived 100 years ago.
